● KIP&UNICOM2019

Knowledge Investment Programs (KIP) is a membership club to cultivate young people to be global intellectuals who understand their own country and who can discuss contemporary topics. In UNICOM 2019, overseas and Japanese students will discuss (in English and Japanese) the global and local issues. Also, we will participate in various activities, such as visiting local industries and learning culture of the region, and interacting with local people.

● Comments from the participants

We enjoyed the rare opportunity to meet and experience the activities with the people who are engaged in the primary industries. We were able to regard various social issues as my own, not just an armchair theory. (Ryotaro Okabe, School of Life Science and Technology, Tokyo Institute of Technology)

We became able to become friends with people from different backgrounds including university students from Tokyo, Mie and foreign countries. Even after the event finished, we sometimes meet up and have a great time talking about both fun topics and serious social issues. (Riho Ishii, School of Creative Science and Engineering, Waseda University)

I become able to acquire the ability to see things from multiple points of view. Regarding marine pollution, we picked up garbage on the beach and discussed the related issues. Through these discussions, we became able to consider the relationships between international and domestic issues as well as forestry and fishery industries. (Luka Ishino, Faculty of Law, Keio University)
